WATER: MAKE EVERY DROP COUNT

An Advanced Educational Workshop earning 5 educational hours

Monroe County Master Gardener Association

October 18, 2008-8:30am-3:00pm

First United Church, 2420 E. Third Street, Bloomington, IN 47401

Program

Bill Jones, keynote speaker, limnologist and professor, School of Public and Environmental Affairs, Indiana University, "Whiskey's for Drinkin'--Water's for Fightin'."

Linda Thompson, senior environmental planner, City of Bloomington, "Water Quality and Quantity for a Sustainable Future."

Michael Simmons, program specialist, City of Bloomington Parks and Recreation Department, "Tapped Out: Planning for Sustainable Water Use in the Garden."

Cathy Meyer, naturalist, Monroe County Parks and Recreation, "Rain Gardens."

Name

Address

City State Zip code

Daytime telephone Evening telephone

E-mail address

Special dietary consideration ?

Registration deadline: October 8, 2008. Make your check for $ 40 (includes continental breakfast, lunch, and program) payable to the MCMGA and mail the check and completed registration form to :

Cheryl Engber
4672 E. Compton Blvd.
Bloomington, IN 47401

For information, email cmengber@att.net

PURDUE Master Gardener PROGRAM